

MICHIGAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

2021 - 2023 STRATEGIC PLAN

BACKGROUND

Libraries throughout Michigan are centers for learning and self-discovery, providing free and open access to information to all residents. Libraries are simultaneously community centers, tourist destinations, places to read, places to gather and socialize, places to study, and places to learn – cultural institutions in the heart of every community, and on every campus, throughout Michigan.

With a goal to help public, academic, cooperatives, school and special libraries and library professionals succeed, the Michigan Library Association (MLA) is recognized statewide and nationally as the leading statewide assembly with a 130-year record of quality services and programs focused on ensuring the health and vitality of these key cultural institutions. We serve as a forum for collaboration, cooperation, and partnerships, cultivating cutting-edge ideas and awareness of best practices in an open and supportive culture.

Since 1891, MLA has been a vibrant and dynamic service organization with a diverse membership of more than 325 libraries, 1400 library professionals, and close to 1000 trustees in rural, suburban and urban areas. Although some services are exclusive to members, MLA's oversight of professional development, education and advocacy services broadly assists residents, municipal leadership, business leaders and visitors; all who are invested in building healthy and dynamic communities in all 83 Michigan counties.

Uniquely positioned to be an "umbrella" service and advocacy organization, we support the growth and professional development of library personnel; provide consulting and assistance; and advocate to our local and state legislators about the value of libraries.

Headquartered in Lansing, the MLA staff is led by an executive director with four additional full-time and one part-time positions. MLA's 16-member Board of Directors is comprised of a geographically diverse group of library professionals who oversee strategic planning and policymaking.

As a service and advocacy organization, we derive and define the quality of our programs and services by a) meeting specific member and community needs; b) designing systems to meet those needs; and c) developing measurement systems to evaluate quality. The board and staff pride themselves in gaining diverse member and community feedback through an inclusive planning process. The current strategic plan was developed in 2020 and updated in 2021 and continues to guide and bring clarity to the quality of the programming and services – allowing learning experiences, assistance, advocacy and community impact to be rich and complex.

Additionally, we form strong inclusive work groups and standing committees representing diverse community partners who guide and contribute their expertise to a collective vision. We mold and shape their ideas, so the quality of the final product and/or service incorporates many perspectives and matches our constituent's needs.

MLA plays an important role in supporting the work of librarians and other personnel in developing the sector's cohesion and ability to meet its collective needs. Through our research and analysis of survey findings over the past five years, we've documented through the voices of our members a significant increase in activity, better-managed libraries and impactful advocacy results due in large part to the services we provide.

We are deeply committed to the statewide agenda to leverage the library profession in Michigan to spur economic growth and build community prosperity. By continuing our work in education, advocacy and direct assistance in rural, suburban and urban areas, we will continue to build services around the special and unique needs of all libraries in every region of our state.

OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW OF PLANNING

In June 2019, the Board of Directors began the process of developing a new, three-year strategic plan for the Michigan Library Association (MLA). The desired goal of the planning process was to clarify and guide MLA over the course of the next three years in how best to utilize our time and resources in advancing the library community and meeting the future needs of all of our key stakeholders.

- Mission and vision development sessions were held at the June 2019 board retreat and the September 2019 board meeting for MLA board and were led by NEW Center in Ann Arbor. Discussion took place around mission and vision development and the challenges facing the library community and the trends we must be aware of in advancing the library profession.
- A survey of MLA members was sent out in September 2019 with 480 responses within a 10-day period which equates to an 18% response rate.
- NEW conducted five strategic interviews with leaders of key library service organizations including the Library of Michigan, Michigan Academic Library Association (MiALA), Michigan Association of Media in Education (MAME), Michigan Cooperative Directors, and Midwest Collaborative Library Services (MCLS).
- Between June 2019 and November 2019, the MLA Executive Director arranged 12 site visits with board members to ask them individually their feelings of success and concern. In addition, 15 additional site visits/listening tours were held at libraries throughout the state to gather input.
- A small sub-committee of the board was selected to help the MLA Executive Director analyze the findings and help guide the writing of the plan from December 2019 to March 2020.
- Adoption of the revised strategic plan by the MLA Board of Directors took place at the March 13, 2020 board meeting and affirms the intent and direction articulated by the mission, vision and goals.
- The board also affirmed that this is a "rolling" plan and will be assessed and updated annually to make sure we remain relevant, continue to address the needs of the field, and address achievements of MLA.
- This strategic plan is not intended to be a "to-do" list nor is it a comprehensive description of the MLA portfolio of activities. This is a directional document and statement of priorities for the near future.
- Accomplishing these initiatives will move the association closer to its envisioned future. The goals are deliberately broad to enable our association the flexibility to be nimble in response to rapid change and new opportunities that support the foundational goals.
- In July 2021, MLA gathered a small group of key stakeholders who reviewed the planning document and made updates that addressed achievements and changes for 2021- 2023.

KEY STAKEHOLDERS

We can't do this alone. It is only by shared influence and learning that the Michigan Library Association can affect greater change and build the value and importance of all libraries through the entire state. While we work with many decision makers and influencers, our primary stakeholders include:

- Library staff working at public libraries, school and academic libraries, special collections, consortia and co-ops.
- Governing bodies at public, school and academic institutions.
- Students at University of Michigan and Wayne State University School of Information Science.
- Retired library staff and trustees.
- Leaders of other statewide and national library service organizations.
- Private sector leaders from businesses, vendors and foundations.
- Public sector leaders/elected officials including mayors, city/county managers, city/county council members, commission members, legislators, and others at the federal, state and local levels.
- Influencers including philanthropists and patrons and civic leaders.

TAGLINE: "STRONGER TOGETHER"

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

Strategic planning and setting priorities assume that we will be quick to respond to a dynamic, changing environment, which may require changes in the future. Following an internal assessment of our programming and resources, as well as an assessment of community and stakeholder needs, we determined the following strategic priorities:

1. EQUITY, DIVERSITY, ACCESSIBILITY AND BELONGING: Advance, advocate and support a more diverse and inclusive environment within MLA amongst our board, staff, and ambassadors. We are committed to ensuring that all individuals who apply to, work with or otherwise interact with us are treated with fairness and respect and accorded equal opportunity. We must be vigilant that our programs and services are inclusive of all library personnel in all cities, townships, and villages, in rural, suburban and urban areas in both the Upper and Lower Peninsula.
2. COLLABORATION AND PARTNERSHIPS: We share a deep commitment to strengthening all libraries in the ecosystem – libraries serving residents from cradle to grave – and valuing/promoting how they intersect and contribute to each other's success. It is our work to build bridges and advance critical conversations with other service partners including the Library of Michigan, MAME, MiALA, FOML, MCLS, regional Co-Ops and consortia, and other cultural organizations. We recognize that by working collaboratively amongst ourselves, and in partnership with those outside, we will be successful in creating a strong, united library field.
3. HEALTH AND WELL-BEING OF MEMBERS: In 2021, we are still in the midst of dealing with the pandemic and we know that many of us have been directly impacted both mentally and physically by this world-wide health crisis. We also know that any organization's health and prosperity is directly influenced by the health and well-being of its employees. We believe that it is critical for MLA to promote and expand our work to bring focus to a library's human capital which will result in a healthier and more productive workforce, and a more engaged MLA member.
4. MENTORSHIP AND NEW IDEAS: We are ready to let go of outdated or restrictive practices, we are open to innovation from inside and outside of the library field, and ready to engage and mentor those newer to the field who are shaping it for the future.
