

Contact Your Federal Legislators and Urge Them to Include Libraries in COVID-19 Relief and Economic Stimulus

March 18, 2020

The U.S. Congress is currently considering COVID-19 (coronavirus) relief and economic stimulus legislation, and likely will consider additional economic relief proposals in the future.

Your legislators need to hear directly from you that they must include libraries in COVID-19 relief and economic stimulus. They also need to hear specifically about how COVID-19 is affecting you and your library.

We've drafted a letter that includes a space for you to personalize your communication. Please read the letter carefully and add details about how library closures are affecting you, your library and your community.

Thank you for taking action to support libraries during this global pandemic.
